VOODOOISM.

The Native African Paganism Rife Among the Freedmen—Disgusting Rites of the Devotees of Voodoo—Influence of the Negro Mystagogues on their Followers, &c., &c.

[From the Nashville Union and American.]

Some two months or more ago we copied from the Georgia and Mississippi papers statements showing that many of the negroes in certain localities in those States were afflicted with the most grotesque and absurd religious superstitions. The Rev. C. K. Marshall, of the latter State, also made a statement of well-authenticated facts, indicating that these crude superstitions were much more general among the negro population of the South than was generally known. One of the forms of this heathenism is denominated Voodoo by the negroes, and was exemplified practically in Memphis on Sunday last, in the manner stated by the Appeal, as follows:

"VOODOOISM—We believe that this barbaric religion of worship is beginning to take hold among the negroes. Free from the check which was once held over them they have unlimited control over their baser passions, and now and then it bursts out, and proves that the worship of their barbaric fathers still runs in the blood of the Americanized negro. It was but last Sunday night that a party of five negroes, dressed in the garb which Father Adam is supposed to have worn, dashed down across South street into an open field, yelping and shouting like madmen, to the terror of the women and amusement and surprise of the men, who did not know what to make of them. Talking with some negroes yesterday about this incident, we asked them what it all meant. Several shrugged their shoulders innocently, but one, more ignorant than the rest, informed us 'dey are tryin' to voodoo de niggars.' Voodooism, from what we can learn, is a superstition little less than the idolatrous religion of Africa. It prevails more extensively in New Orleans than elsewhere, and its rites and ceremonies are most disgusting. They believe in incantations and charms, bewitch their enemies by pieces of hair, feathers, and similar articles, which are charmed. They have been suspected of human sacrifices and are known to rob graves that they may procure materials for their charms, which are as varied and disgusting as those used by the witches in "Macbeth." Strange to say, they have made white converts, and, in one or two cases, of sensible people. The initiatory rites, as described by the New Orleans police, who have several times broken in upon them, consist of naked dances around a leaking caldron of charmed snakes, toads, human remains, and similar articles. They have a woman to whom they are subject. This woman, who resides in New Orleans, is known to the police as being a beautiful octoroon. The subject is one of interest, and the only works we know of on it are very unsatisfactory. The negro Dr. Randolph, lately traveling with the Southern loyalists, delivered some lectures on the subject at New Orleans, claiming that he had learned its mysteries in Africa, but he evidently knew very little on the subject. It is known to be practised on most of the Louisiana plantations. Gilmore Simms has written a story called the 'Enchanted Crow,' which is evidently based on this heathenism and superstitious religion. It is to be hoped that some competent person will study it, for it is the religion of Africa brought to our doors.

The Galveston (Texas) Bulletin, a few weeks ago, stated a case occurring in the County Jail, as follows:

"There is at the County Jail a darkey supposed to be voodooed. Sambo has been there more than a month. He has never spoken, except when hungry and forced to say 'bread,' and on one occasion when he was heard to say 'nice morning.' Yet the rascal can evidently talk and understand what is said to him. He will stand by the hour straight in 'the position of a soldier,' staring at the blank wall. At other times he will sing 'Bobbing Around' for half the night, when he will curl himself on the ground, put his head on his tin plate and sleep like a pig. The other negroes say he is either voodooed or else is voodooing somebody."

Within the last ten days a case has transpired in this city, with similar characteristics. A negress, of the half-blood, who was for many years a slave in the family of the writer of this, and who has borne and reared a family of several children, was taken sick some six weeks or two months ago, with some scrofulous form of disease. Failing to get relief she called in a negro "medicine man," who at once pronounced her bewitched, or voodooed. He told her that the bed on which she lay contained certain feathers, bones, and hair which had produced all her suffering, and whereby she had been voodooed. To prove it he proposed to rip open and examine the bed. Upon doing so he found certain minute chicken-bones, a few chicken feathers, and some hair. This demonstrated the truth of the physician's diagnosis, and he began his curative process by dispelling the sorcery, by incantations, sounds, gestures, &c., the evil spirit of the Voodoo. This so shocked and disgusted the husband of the patient and the other members of the family, that the "medicine man" was peremptorily discharged, with a warning not to return.

Another form of the superstitions of this race was disclosed at the session of the Methodist Conference, which assembled at Galveston on the 24th ult. The following is an extract from the proceedings:

"Emanuel Hammitt, a negro preacher from Millican, was elected to deacon's orders. It was stated that he could read the Bible well, was a good preacher, and 'Southern' in his feelings. The bishop wished to know if he held any of the superstitions common among the blacks, and was informed that he did not. The bishop then stated that in travelling lately through Harrison county, on Red River, he had found a religious organization of negroes, calling themselves 'The Angel Band.' They were under the direction of an old negro woman whom they called the 'God-mother,' and who, they believed, knew all their thoughts and actions, whether they were present or absent. She prescribed punishment at pleasure, which was received with opposition by the criminal.

"It was expected that each person should receive a revelation from Heaven and relate it to the society. One boy, about fourteen years of age, received no divine light, and was ordered to be flogged till the vision came. This was done and a wonderful story was related. The bishop asked the boy how it was that the whipping gave him such a revelation, and received the answer: 'Sir, if you had been whipped as I was, you would have had a revelation.'"

BUTLER.

Ben Butler the Author of the Rebellion ---Extraordinary Revelation

Alexander F. Pratt, editor of the Plain Dealer, published at Waukesha, Wisconsin, a Douglas delegate to the Charleston Convention, in 1860, and a man who has known Benjamin F. Butler intimately from his youth, publishes some extraordinary revelations concerning the part that notorious incendiary took in the Charleston Convention, the efforts he put forth to bring about secession, and the promises of help from the North, which he made in the name of Northern Democrats when secession should be accomplished in fact.

Mr. Pratt says: "Butler had been sent to that convention as we were, instructed to vote for Stephen A. Douglas; but during that struggle, which lasted some two weeks, he voted persistently for the nomination of Jefferson Davis.

"At that time," continues Mr. Pratt, "secession was openly advocated, and was as plain to us in the distance, as it is now to all, in the backgronnd. Six or eight well drilled and well armed and equipped companies were then daily parading the streets of that city. One by one were our National delegates led into the private room of St. Andrews Hall by Butler and others where they were met by such men as Slidell, Mason and others who had their millions in gold to purchase the nomination of a Southern man. How much Butler received we neither know nor care, but as we said before, the last speech we ever heard from Butler, and it will probably remain the last, unless we may have the good fortune to hear him speak upon the gallows, was a secret meeting held one evening after he and the Southern delegates had seceded from our Convention. We obtained admittance that evening through a friend from Alabama, and for nearly an hour listened to a speech from Butler to Admiral Palmer.

"In this speech Butler assured them that we, the Douglas Democrats, were "free soilers," that he and others represented the Buchanan, the 'Simon Pure' Democracy of the North—that in case of a collision of arms between the North and South that the genuine Democracy would be found defending the rights of the South. And when firing upon Fort Sumter, they had as much faith in the belief that Butler and the Northern Democrats would sustain them as they had in their powder igniting when they applied the fire to it.

"There is no one more willing to pardon and forgive than we are: but when we reflect upon the past, and consider the human suffering caused by the late war, the mountains of human bones bleaching on the Southern soil, the rivers of human blood that have drenched that soil, together with the home scenes of destitute orphans and widows, and the thousands of cripples who are hobbling limbless about our towns and cities; knowing as we do, of our personal knowledge, that Ben. Butler done more than all other Northern men put together to bring on the war, we cannot but hope that we may yet live to hear his last speech made from a more elevated platform, and where he will be listened to by better Union men surrounded by the officers of justice, sworn to do their duty. When that time arrives, 'treason will be made odious.'"

Arrangement with the Confederates by General Butler---Butler's proposition to Van Dorn---Powder to the Confederates to Kill Federals with.

Correspondence of the Cincinnati Inquirer.

"Oh! damned villain."—Shakspeare.

While the Confederate army of the West was at Tupelo Mississippi, General Butler was in New Orleans, and for months this noble, patriotic, unselfish man supplied them with boots, shoes, salt, gunpowder, percussion caps, &c., Does any man doubt this assertion? If so, let that man go to Jackson, Mississippi, or to any point on the New Orleans Railroad below Jackson, and ask anybody living on the railroad if supplies of all kinds were not regularly sent over the road from New Orleans.

Let the unbeliever inquire for a certain Captain Colby (formerly known in Cincinnati, Ohio) who was a commissary in the Confederate army, and stationed at Jackson, Mississippi, whether he did not receive constantly large supplies of coffee, salt, &c., &c., for a period extending over eighteen months. The writer of this article, while in Jackson, Mississippi, in the summer of 1862, had occasion to visit the chief clerk of Captain Colby, a Mr. Bliss, formerly Governor of Colorado Territory, and while there heard a conversation take place between Colonel Jones, of General Bragg's staff, and a confidential agent of General Butler in which it was agreed on the part of General Butler to furnish the Confederate army of the West with shoes, blankets, salt, &c., and 4,000 sacks of salt should be delivered—if I remember right—in three weeks. Bliss and myself were separated from the speakers by a board partition, not well made, and could hear the entire conversation. As we listened we became much interested, and exchanged frequent significant winks, both being good Confederates.

Bliss afterward "sloped" to avoid the conscript law; he was a fine fellow for all that, however. Butler's agent wanted a bale of cotton for a sack of salt, and the parties came near splitting on the point. Don't know how it was settled, but know that supplies came in regularly.

Upon the evening of the same day that the conversation above reported took place I visited the headquarters of General Van Dorn, and while talking to two of my old acquaintances—Col. Ned. Dillon, Chief Commissary, and Col. Lomax, both graduates of West Point—General Van Dorn himself came in laughing—"Well," said he to Col. Lomax, "I have just had a proposition from Gen. Butler, and he proposes to supply our army with all we want, providing I will send him cotton." "What an infernal scoundrel he is," said Van Dorn. To this we all unhesitatingly agreed. "What a spectacle of depravity is here presented—a man furnishing gunpowder to slay his comrades, and clothes and food to supply their enemies."

I have been a Confederate soldier of the fighting department, and have met on many fields the noble soldiers of the Northwest, and I have thought when I have seen them dead and lying around me, that they had probably fallen, killed by ammunition furnished by General Butler. Now this beast, this "shape infernal," presents himself before the people of the North, and has been hailed with applause by thousands.

Is there a just God above, who will pour out the vials of his wrath upon those who defy him! There is, and Ben. Butler will come to a horrible end—mark the prediction, this man is destined to a terrible end. It might have been said of him that he was simply a brute for publishing his order No. 28, or for presenting a loaded pistol at the head of a weeping lady; but where are the terms in which to characterize the utter depravity of the man who would slay thousands of his countrymen for gold. Come forth ye hundreds of witnesses of this man's depravity, and make it known to the world! I summon you to the inquisition, not as a partisan, but for the cause of humanity. Ben. Butler must be unmasked! Somebody must undertake this task.

Some months ago I wrote to Secretary Stanton, giving him "the points" against Butler, and the names of the witnesses, but nothing has been done. I wrote a private letter to Secretary Stanton in regard to this matter, but not a move has ever been made against him.

Butler is a worthy son of New England. He is loved there as a good, true and patriotic man. Wait for a time and "see his guilt unkennelled."

JOHN E. WATSON.

A MECHANICAL HORSE.—A sensation has been excited in Paris by an announcement that Mr. Aspic, of Cincinnati, has just invented a mechanical horse, that is likely completely to set aside the employment of its living predecessors. Mr. Aspic's horse is of the size of nature, and acts by a series of springs, enabling the rider to walk, trot, amble, or gallop at will. The "dumb animal," it is said, can twist itself about, move its eyes, prick up its ears, and even neigh, if winked at. The only obstacle to the acquisition of such a steed, that will require neither hay, nor corn, nor straw, nor groom, is its high price—upward of $10,000.

The cure of an evil tongue must be done at the heart. The weights and wheels are there, but the clock strikes according to their motion. A guileful heart makes a guileful tongue and lips. It is the work-house where is the forge of deceits and slanders; and the tongue is only the outer shop where they are vended, and the door of it. Such ware as is made within, such and no other, can come out.—Leighton.

A. WARD AT SHAKSPEARE'S TOMB.

[From the London Punch, September 26.]

MR. PUNCH, MY DEAR SIR:—I've been lingerin by the tomb of the lamentid Shakespeare.

It is a success.

You may make any use of this opinion that you see fit. If you think its publication will subswerve the cause of literatoor, you may publicate it.

I told my wife Betsy when I left home that I should go to the birthplace of "Otheller," and other plays. She said that as long as I kept out of Newgate she didn't care where I went. "But," I said, "don't you know that he was the greatest poit that ever lived? Not one of these common poits, like that young idyit who writes verses to our daughter, about the roses as growses and the breezes as blowses, but a boss poit—also a philosopher, also a man who knew a great deal about everything."

She was packing my things at the time, and the only answer she made was to ask me if I was goin to carry both of my red flannel night caps.

Yes, I've been to Stratford onto the Avon, the birthplace of Shakespeare. Mr. S. is now no more. He' been dead over three hundred (300) years. The people of his native town are justly proud of him. They cherish his memory, and them as sell picters of his birthplace, &c., make it profitable cherishin it. Almost everybody buys a picter to put in their albiom.

As I stood gazin on the spot where Shakespeare is s'posed to have fell down on the ice and hurt hisself when a boy, (this spot cannot be bought—the town authorities say that it shall never be taken from Stratford,) I wondered if three hundred years hence picters of my birthplace will be in demand? Will the people of my native town be proud of me in three hundred years? I guess they won't short of that time, because they say that the fat man weighin 1,000 pounds which I exhibited there was stuffed with pillers and cushions, which he said one very hot day in July, "Oh bother, I can't stand this," and commenced pullin the pillers out from under his weskit and heaven 'em at the audience. I never saw a man lose flesh so fast in my life. The audience said I was a pretty man to come chiselin my own townsmen in that way. I said, "Do not be angry, feller citizens. I exhibited him simply as a work of art. I simply wished to show you that a man can grow fat without the use of cod-liver oil." But they wouldn't listen to me. They are a low and grovelin set of people, who excite a feelin of loathin in every brest where lofty emotions and original idees have a bidin place.

I stopped at Leamington a few minits on my way to Stratford onto the Avon, and a very beautiful town it is. I went into a shoe shop to make a purchis, and as I entered I saw over the door those dear familiar words, "By Appointment: H. R. H.;" and I said to the man, "Squire, excuse me, but this is too much. I have seen in London four hundred boot and shoe shops by Appointment: H. R. H.; and now you're at it. It is simply impossible that the Prince can wear 400 pairs of boots. Don't tell me," I said, in a voice choked with emotion—"Oh do not tell me that you also make boots for him. Say slipper—say that you mend a boot now and then for him; but do not tell me that you make 'em reg'lar for him."

The man smilt, and said I didn't understand these things. He said I perhaps had not noticed in London that the dealers in all sorts of articles was by Appointment. I said, "Oh, hadn't I?" Then a sudden thought flasht over me. "I have it!" said I. "When the Prince walks through a street, he no doubt looks at the shop windows."

The man said "No doubt."

"And the enterprisin tradesman," I continued, "the moment the Prince gets out of sight, rushes frantically and has a tin sign painted, By Appointment, H. R. H. It is a beautiful, a great idee!"

I then bought a pair of shoe strings, and wringing the shopman's honest hand I started for the tomb of Shakespeare in a hired fly. It looked, however, like a spider.

"And this," I said, as I stood in the old churchyard at Stratford, beside a tombstone, "this marks the spot where lies William W. Shakspeare. Alars! and this is the spot where——"

"You've got the wrong grave," said a man—a worthy villager; "Shakespeare is buried inside the church."

"Oh," I said, "a boy told me this was it." The boy larfed and put the shillin I'd given him into his left eye in a inglorious manner, and commenced moving backwards towards the street. I pursood and captured him, and after talkin to him a spell in a sarkastic stile, I let him went.

The old church was damp and chill. It was rainin. The only persons there when I entered was a fine bluff old gentleman, who was talkin in a excited manner to a fashinibly dressed young man. "No, Ernst Montressor," the old gentleman said, it is idle to pursoo this subjek no further. You can never marry my daughter. You were seen last Monday in Piccadilly without a umbreller. I said then, as I said now, any young man as venturs out in a uncertain climit like this without a umbreller, lacks foresight, caution, strength of mind and stability, and he is not the proper person to intrust a daughter's happiness to."

I slapt the old gentleman on the shoulder, and I said, "You's right! You're one of those kind of men—you are—"

He wheeled suddenly round, and in a indignant voice said, "Go way—go way! This is a privit intervoo."

I didn't stop to enrich the old gentleman's mind with my conversation. I sorter of inferred that he wasn't inclined to listen to me, and so I went on. But he was right about the umbreller. I'm really delighted with this grand old country, Mr. Punch, but you must admit that it does rain raythur numerously here. Whether this is owing to a monerkal form of government or not, I leave all candid and onprejudiced persons to say.

William Shakespeare was born in Stratford in 1564. All the Commentaters, Shaksperian scholars, etsetry, are agreed on this, which is the only thing they are agreed on in regard to him, except that his mantle hasn't fallen onto any poet or dramatist hard enough to hurt said poet or dramatist much. And there is no doubt if these commentaters and persons continner investigating Shakespeare's career, we shall not, in due time, know anything about it all. —When a mere lad, little William attended the Grammar School, because, as he said, the Grammar School would n't attend him.—This remarkable remark coming from one so young and unexperienced, set peple to thinking there might be something in this lad. He subsequently wrote "Hamlet" and "George Barnwell." When his kind teacher went to London to accept a position in the offices of the Metropolitan Railway, little William was chosen by his fellow-pupils to deliver a farewell address. "Go on, sir," he said, "in a glorious career. Be like a eagle, and soar, and the soarer you get the more we shall be gratified. That's so."

My young readers who wish to know about Shakespeare, better get these vallyable remarks framed.

I returned to the hotel. Meetin a young married couple, they asked me if I could direct them to the hotel which Washington Irvine used to keep?

"I've understood that he was onsuccessful as a landlord," said the lady.

"We've understood," said the young man, "that he busted up."

I told 'em I was a stranger, and hurried away. They were from my country, and undoubtedly represented a thrifty ile well somewhere in Pennsylvany. It's a common thing, by the way, for an old farmer in Pennsylvany to wake up some mornin and find ile squirtin all around his back yard. He sell out for 'normous price, and his children put on gorgeous harness and start on a tower to astonish people. They succeed in doin it. Meantime the ile squirts and squirts, and Time rolls on. Let it roll.

A very nice old town is Stratford, and a capital inn is the Red Horse. Every admirer of the great S., must go once certainly; and to say one isn't a admirer of him, is equivalent to sayin one has just brains enough to become a efficient tinker.

Some kind person has sent me Chawcer's Poems. Mr. C. had talent, but he couldn't spel. No man has a right to be a lit'rary man onless he knows how to spel. It is a pity that Chaweer, who had geneyus, was so unedicated. He's the wass speller I know of.

I guess I'm through, and so I lay down the pen, which is more mightier than the sword, but which I am afraid would stand a raythur slim chance beside the needle gun. Adoo! Adoo!

ARTEMUS WARD.

A PRIZE FIGHTER IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.—Years ago, in England, there lived a notorious character named James Gulley, a public prize fighter, who, in many a fair and square stand-up fight, gained many friends among the nobility and the "fancy." Having made some money, he opened a "hell" in James street, London, within a few doors of Piccadilly. Here his acquaintance with the nobility extended, and he next loomed up a patron of the turf, and elbowed his way into "good society" at Doncaster, where he came near carrying off the St. Leger stakes from the notorious Earl Jersey. From the race course at Doncaster was but a step into the British House of Commons, where James Gulley, Esq., figured as a member for the borough Friaresborough. So the election of John Morrissey to Congress has not only a precedent, but his previous history is almost parallel with that of the pugilistic M. P.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE AND THE PRESIDENT.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, Radical, gives in a dispatch of the 18th inst. the following accout of the much-talked of interviews between the Chief Justice and the President:

Mr. Chase has recently had two interviews with the President. The first of these was concerning judicial matters and had no connection with a subsequent informal meeting of Cabinet ministers. At the second interview, by appointment for that purpose, he was asked and gave his opinion upon the questions before the country, earnestly advising the President to recommend the adoption of the amendment of the Constitution as a just basis of settlement, or, if he was not prepared for that, to take ground in favor of substituting for the second and third sections of the amendment universal amnesty and impartial suffrage. The counsels of the Chief Justice have not heretofore been followed and there are no indications that they will be this time. In fact, Mr. Johnson yesterday expressed emphatically his determination to abide by his position.

A GOOD TOAST.—At a printer's festival lately, the following toast was given: "Woman—second only to the press in the dissemination of news!"

CAUCUS GOVERNMENT.

We are just now under the rule of King Caucus. His Secret Majesty sits enthroned at Washington, with Stevens and Wade and Forney as his ministers of State. Time was when the laws of our country were made in the light of day, when every member of the legislative body was permitted to take part in the determination of questions before it, when a free people could sit in the galleries and listen to all the arguments adduced on all sides of such questions; but now a partizan majority meet in secret conclave, and determine, as partizans, not as honest legislators, what laws are to be enacted and what measures are to be rejected. To-night they resolve to pass a certain bill; to-morrow it will be reported in the House and passed under the gag of the previous question and the whip and spur of the slave-drivers of the Rump. The minority are allowed to protest and—that is all. The passage of the measure has been pre-determined by the secret Caucus, and nothing can prevent its adoption. Now, we submit, in all candor, is this legislation according to the spirit and intent of a Republican government? Are our laws to be made by a secret Caucus, instead of an open Legislature? Are the minority to be considered as nonentities who have no brains to think, and no tongues to speak, or rather who have no right to exercise their brains in thinking, or their tongues in speaking? If so, let the people know it. If so, King Caucus must be slain! We say, give us Revolution, give us War, give us Death, rather than such slavery!

WHY DON'T YOU TRY HIM?

Mr. Mongrel, why don't your reconstructed, regenerated Supreme Court proceed with the trial of Jefferson Davis? You have called him "traitor," you have accused him of murder, you have damned him as the vilest incarnation of all that is evil and hateful; now, why don't you try him, and if found guilty of treason, or murder, or arson, or larceny, by a jury of his peers, empaneled according to law, punish him according to the grade of his offence? Why do you keep him immured in that fort down by the sea, boarding and clothing and guarding him at the expense of the government? If his guilt be so patent and indisputable, there can be no doubt of his conviction. You would try a common felon, a horse-thief, a highway robber, or a murderer, but this criminal of criminals, this prince of traitors (so your vocabulary runs) you refuse to try, and through your negligence he remains unhanged. Yet you prate about the "punishment of treason," and "traitors" being made "odious." Ah! ye hypocrites! You are afraid lest the Supreme Court will define "treason" as something else than what you have been preaching for the last six years. You fear that your own Judge Chase, holding his old State Right views, under which he and you nullified the Federal Fugitive Slave Law, will be compelled to decide that Davis is not guilty of treason. We understand you, and the people will, sooner or later, learn to understand you. You had better try that man in prison down at Fortress Monroe. Your masters, the people, are beginning to inquire into the cause of your delay. Look out! oh, ye slippery, there are some sharp turns in your path, around which you will find it troublesome to wriggle. You had better try Jeff. Davis before the next election in Pennsylvania.

THE Franklin Repository seems to think that a political organization ought not to rejoice at the overthrow of doctrines which it combats, but only over the attainment of the spoils by the success of its candidates for office. Not an unnatural conclusion to be arrived at by Col. M'Clure.

THE Franklin Repository, of last week, says that there are forty candidates for the Mongrel nomination for U. S. Senator.

DULL TIMES.

"Business is dull!" Such is the exclamation we hear, now-a-days, from every body. Well, is it any wonder that business is dull?" For the year ending June 30, 1866, the Federal Government collected from the people of the United States, over five hundred millions of dollars in the shape of taxes. For the present year the estimate from the same sources is six hundred and fifty millions of dollars! In 1858-9, a fellow by the name of Ed. McPherson, whom some of the Mongrels in this Congressional district may remember, got himself elected to Congress, on the ground that the people were taxed too heavily to keep up the government, which was then administered at a cost of about ninety millions per annum, and without any Internal Revenue Tax whatever. All the financial troubles of the country were then laid at the door of the Democracy, because, as was alleged, the expenditures of the Government bore too heavily upon the productive industry of the country! If McPherson and his party stated the true cause of the depression in business then, how much greater reason is there to believe that the same cause quintupled in degree, is at the bottom of the dullness in business, now? The fact is that the Mongrel Rump Congress has legislated capital into the hands of the few and taxed the many so outrageously, that we are fast tending toward a financial panic. A change in the political complexion of Congress must be and will be had, ere this state of things can be remedied.

THE Rump Congress, as will be seen by the proceedings of Monday last, are about to begin the work of legislating the President out of office. The cowardly knaves dare not impeach him. They are afraid of the wrath of the people. Impeachment would cause the populace to pause and think even in the midst of the whirlwind before which they are being driven to the devil. Hence the plotting miscreants who lead and drive the Rump, mean to accomplish by indirection, what they fear to undertake by an open and undisguised effort. They will take the pardoning power from the President; they will rob him of the appointing power; they will pass laws over his veto and compel him to execute them; and thus they will shear him of all strength and make the Presidential office a blank in the government. With the Executive thus blotted out of existence, we shall be ruled by an oligarchy, a miserable, corrupt and tyrannical Caucus, in defiance of the Constitution and in utter contempt of the interests and safety of the people. Thus is our form of government about to be overturned. Thus is the rebellion of the Rump being quietly carried forward to success. Will we, ought we, can we submit to tyranny like this?

The Democrats of Bedford county held a jollification on Monday last celebrating the defeat of the Constitutional Amendment in the late elections. The Gazette in one of its headings on the subject, has the following: "Hickory may be bent but cannot be broken." The "unterrified" of Bedford have a better way of bending to their defeat than that of other counties.—Huntingdon Globe.

That's a fact, Brother Lewis. Don't you remember that Douglas flag-raising in Stonerstown, six years ago? There was quite a bender then and there, but nothing was broken.

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind?
Should auld acquaintance be forgot
And days o' lang syne?"

HON. JACOB FRY, ex-Auditor General, died, a few days ago, at his residence, in Montgomery county. Mr. Fry was known throughout the State as a pure and upright man, and his death leaves a vacuum in political circles not easily filled.

COL. M'CLURE, the immaculate, says in his last paper: "Those who want to defraud their constituents and would divide their wrong with others, find ready aid and sympathy in the Press." Has that angel of a man, Forney, no more principle than that?

THOSE who mean to obey the wishes of their constituents will vote for Gov. Curtin.—Franklin Repository.

And put a man in the U. S. Senate who will take care of Col. M'Clure's jobs.

THOSE who make legislation a trade will vote for Simon Cameron.—Franklin Repository.

That's rather queer! We had thought Col. M'Clure and his friends were for Gov. Curtin.

CONGRESS.—It says this to the South, through its Radical majority: We will tax you. We will propose constitutional amendments, and demand that you shall ratify them. We shall establish courts among you. We will govern you. But you shall not have any representation in Congress.—They call this a republican form of government.

DEATH OF CAVE JOHNSON.—Hon. Cave Johnson died at Clarksville, Tennessee, on Friday last. He was Post master General during President Polk's administration.

WASHINGTON.

The Shabby M. C's: Old Thad. thinks about "impeachment:" Chase, the peripatetic: Probable tone of the President's Message; Congress compelled to adopt a new programme; Secretary Stanton and the Patronage of the War Office, &c., &c.

Correspondence of the Bedford Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1, 1866.

MR. EDITOR:—I arrived here yesterday and found a half a dozen Senators and about twice that number of M. C's scattered about at the different hotels. They are a shabby looking set and I instinctively clapped my hand on my pocket-book whenever I came near one of them. Old Thad. has been hobbling around here for some days. It is said that he is preparing articles of impeachment upon which Andy Johnson is to be tried by the Rump Senate. I have no doubt that Thaddeus would like to have the President kicked out, but he is a little afraid of the effect which an attempt at that sort of thing would have upon the future of the Mongrel party. He may have been thinking seriously of preferring articles of impeachment against the President, but some of the moneyed men of his party have doubtless put martingals and holding-back-straps on him, and I think he will be curbed, and if necessary, thrown back upon his haunches, by the Jehus who drive the Rump wagon. Chase, the peripatetic, speech-making, caucusing, Jeff. Davis-dodging, negro-palavering "Chief Justic" has been to see the aforesaid Thaddeus, and has, doubtless, given him a word of caution. The slippery Salmon has no idea of having the chances of the next Mongrel candidate for the Presidency, spoiled by any such foolish operation as the impeachment of President Johnson. This is quite natural. Salmon expects to be that candidate himself.

There is some speculation here as to the political tone of the forthcoming message of the President. The best information I can get on the subject, assures me that Mr. Johnson will not abandon any of the positions assumed by him during the past year. He need not re-iterate those positions in his message. He has stated them fully in former messages and in public speeches. He has urged the propriety of their adoption by Congress, which the latter has persistently and insultingly refused to do, and now he can do nothing more than wait for Congress to act. The Amendment proposed at the last session is dead, there being no possibility of its ratification by the constitutional three fourths of the States, hence Congress will be compelled to set up a new programme. With reference to this the President occupies the vantage-ground, for he has defeated the former plan of Congress and can, in the same manner, defeat any unconstitutional or improper proposition. Therefore, the President can afford to wait until Congress moves.

There is still some talk about the removal of Secretary Stanton. I doubt whether there is any probability of such an auspicious event occurring very soon. However, should a change be made in the War Office, I hope some able Pennsylvanian will be made the new Secretary. The Keystone State is always the battle-ground in Presidential elections, and a vigorous and earnest man in the Cabinet would insure a Conservative triumph in that State. I know that Stanton permitted Thad. Stevens to use the patronage of the War Department against the political friends of the President in the late campaign. If Mr. Johnson knows this, he ought not to expect the people to support him so long as he encourages such treason in his own Cabinet. If he is ignorant of it, it is high time that he should be enlightened in regard to it. It can easily be proved, and if the President desires the evidence it will be laid before him.

A "mass welcome" is to be given to the Rumpers on the 10th inst., under the auspices of the Shoddy contractors, Uniform-manufacturers, Sutlers, Camp followers and such Cotton-stealing Generals as Banks and Butler, connected with the late war. They have invited the true soldiers of the country to participate in their humbug, with the double purpose of over-aweing the President and of committing the soldiers to an endorsement of Congressional usurpation. But the real secret at the bottom of this movement is, that the chaps who are at the head of it, have "axes to grind" which grinding they want to have done on the Congressional grind-stone. Hence, they hope to propitiate the grim Boutwell and the terrible Stevens, by tickling their vanity and appeasing their appetite for the "creature comforts."

Congress will meet on Monday next. Lively times may be expected among the Solons of that body. I hear that an effort will be made to provide, by the passage of a law, for the assembling of the next Congress on the 5th of March, 1867, the day following the expiration of the legal existence of the present Rump, so that Congress may be in continual session and take the government in its own hands. A republican proposition, truly! But enough for this time from PRY.

THE New York Day Book gives Greeley a first-rate notice for United States Senator. It should elect him, as it proves him a patriot, if not quite up to the standard of modern "loyalty:"

"We ourselves can see several reasons which recommend him:

"First—Horace is a philosopher.

Second—He has a respect for old clothes.

"Third—He is a man of undeniable talent.

"Fourth—He will give the country speeches in fine contrast to the dreary stuff of Sumner and Wilson.

"Fifth—He is opposed to hanging unhappy 'rebels;' and

"Sixth—He was an original secessionist of great influence and ability.

"With these varied claims to consideration, we shall expect Horace to reach the Senate without serious opposition."

NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The question of raising the negro to full political equality with white men, says the Age, cannot be detached from the general one connected with a speedy and satisfactory adjustment of the issues now dividing the States. They are indissolubly associated. So long as the Radicals insist upon making the acceptance of the doctrine of negro suffrage by the South necessary in order that their claims for political fellowship may be considered, so long will they act in a manner calculated to keep the States apart and alienate the people. The negro question is one full of danger in the future. It is so recognized by all the leading soldiers and statesmen of the country. The following sentiments expressed in General Sherman's well-known letter to Chief Justice Chase, just after the close of his great march, are important as bearing upon this point. The General writes as follows:

STEAMER PRUSSIA, BEAUFORT HARBOR, May 6, 1865—5 o'clock P. M.

I am not yet prepared to receive the negro on terms of political equality, for the reason it will raise passions and prejudices at the North, superadded to the causes yet dormant at the South, that might rekindle the war, whose fires are now dying out, and which, by skillful management might be kept down. As you must observe, I propose to work with known facts rather than to reason ahead to remote conclusions.

* * * * * * *

We can control the local State capitals, and, it may be, slowly shape political thoughts, but we cannot combat existing ideas with force.

I say honestly that the assertion openly of your ideas of universal negro suffrage as a fixed policy of our general government, to be backed by physical power, will produce a new war sooner or later, and one which, from its desultory character, will be more bloody and destructive than the last. I think the changes necessary in the future can be faster and more certainly made by means of our Constitution than by any plan outside of it.' Now, if we go outside of the Constitution for a means of change, we rather justify the rebels in their late attempt, whereas now, as General Scofield tells us, the people of the South are ready and willing to make the necessary changes, without shock or violence. I felt the last war as bitterly and as keenly as any man could, and I frankly confess myself afraid of a new war; and a new war is bound to result from the action you suggest of giving to the enfranchised negroes so large a share in the delicate task of putting the Southern States in practical working relations with the general government.

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

—On Thursday last Secretary Seward read at a special Cabinet meeting the draft of his dispatch to Minister Bigelow, commenting on Napoleon's breach of faith in not withdrawing the French troops according to agreement. After the despatch was read the Cabinet voted unanimously that its tone be made stronger by insisting that the French troops be withdrawn in pursuance of the previous arrangement to that effect. Another despatch from Washington states that the only cause of the delay on the part of France arose from the fact that it has been thought more prudent to remove the whole of the French troops from Mexico at once. No official confirmation of the report that General Sedgwick had crossed the Rio Grande has been received at Washington, and it is therefore believed that the statement is untrue.

—We have from Salt Lake a report that Brigham Young is about to retire temporarily from his capital, and take up his abode on a plantation owned by him, some sixty miles south of Salt Lake City, leaving the reins of government in the hands of his son, Brigham junior. It is said that a full council of elders have advised this step, preferring that the successor of their patriarch shall be inducted into the affairs of State, and his ability to wield the sceptre tested, before the death of his father shall render final any step which may be adopted in regard to the succession.

—The suspension bridge over the Ohio river at Cincinnati, which is two thousand two hundred and fifty-two feet long, was opened to pedestrians on Saturday, December 1, with appropriate ceremonies. It is the longest single span bridge in the world, costing two million dollars. The railway tracks are laid over its span from centre to centre of towers, one thousand and fifty-seven feet.

—Postmaster General Randall has finally agreed upon a postal treaty with Great Britain, whereby postages to and from the two countries are to be reduced to twelve cents each way. The postage is to be collected by the Government where the letter is mailed, and each side is to keep what it gets. The advantage in this arrangement is said to be on the side of the United States, as more letters are mailed from this country to Great Britain than from it.

—The cholera has appeared in all the oil regions of West Virginia, and at some places is raging with unusual fatality. At Easton's Tunnel, a small station on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, fifteen miles from Parkersburg, there have been fifteen deaths in four days in a population of not more than one hundred persons. The scourge is principally confined to the Irish workmen engaged on the railroad.

—The advices from Europe by the cable are to Thursday last. Further arrests of Fenians had been made in Ireland and more troops were being sent there. Peace will shortly be declared between Peru and Chili.

—The decision of the Supreme Court of Michigan that persons with less than one-fourth African blood in their veins are "white men," within the meaning of the constitution, enfranchised probably one thousand men.

—A young man in London was severely burned by a substance which he says was a falling meteor, but the London Advertiser, which tells the story, is somewhat skeptical.

—An Irish washerwoman in Calaveras County, California, who was obliged to take a share in a newly discovered mine in payment for services, her employer being unable to pay in money, now derives an income of $10,000 a year from it.

—The New England and Middle State Radicals are getting ready for rushing a high tariff bill through and the Western Rads are preparing to oppose it. Some time or other there will be a big fight on that question.—Patriot & Union.

—The Montreal police lately discovered an old cellar, covered with rubbish, in which were four boys and a girl half drunk, with a collection of moulds, coining metal, spoons and implements, besides a quantity of false coin.

—Since the late election the number of outrages upon freedmen and Southern Unionists has marvelously decreased—in Radical newspapers. Strange that all of them should occur just about election time.—Pat. & Union.

—The census of the Indian tribes, as prepared for the annual report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for 1866, shows that the total number of Indians is 295,774.

—Gen. Pile, Congressman elect in the first Missouri congressional district, has brought a suit against the Missouri Republican for slander, laying damages at $50,000.

—Horace Randall, uncle of the present Postmaster General, and an intimate friend of General Washington, is still living in Fauquier county, at the age of 105 years.

—The Denver (Colorado) News reports a fearful state of things in Salt Lake city, the Gentiles not daring to leave their houses at night for fear of assassination.

—Frederick Weed, a nephew of Thurlow Weed, of New York, committed suicide in Salt Lake city, on the 10th of November.

—The vote of New York State is 13,000 less than the vote of 1864. The poll of Pennsylvania is about 21,000 more than in 1864.

—The Freedmen's Bureau has just completed the colored census of Norfolk, and report 9,000 negroes domiciled there.

THE RUMP CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.

The weather is as pleasant as could be desired. The galleries of the two branches of Congress are densely crowded. Those of the House are not sufficiently large to accommodate all seekers of admission. The members of the House are present in full force.

Long before noon the men of both parties were seen shaking hands with marked cordiality, and conversing on other subjects than politics. A mere looker on would scarcely suspect that differences ever divided them, so hearty are they in greeting.

SENATE.

The Senate was called to order at 12 o'clock precisely, by Mr. Foster, president, pro tem. Prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Gray, of the Baptist church.

Mr. Anthony presented the following resolves, which were severally adopted:

That the Secretary inform the House that a quorum of the Senate is assembled; that the hours for meeting of the Senate be twelve o'clock, until otherwise ordered; that a committee of two be appointed to join a committee of the House and wait upon the President to receive his message.

Mr. Sumner said if there was no business before the Senate he would move to call up Senate bill No. 1, "An act to regulate the elective franchise in the District of Columbia."

HOUSE.

The Rev. Dr. Boynton opened the House with a prayer of thankfulness for the results of the late elections, which tend, he said, to establish the principles of liberty to all classes and conditions of men.

The roll of members was called, when one hundred and forty-six answered to their names. Three new members were sworn in from Tennessee and two from Kentucky.

A committee was appointed to wait on the President and inform him that Congress had assembled and was ready to receive any communication.

Mr. Eliot, Mass., asked leave to introduce a bill to repeal the 13th section of the act of July 17th, 1862, which section authorizes the President to grant pardon and amnesty to persons who took part in the rebellion.

Mr. Finck, Ohio, objected, and the rules were suspended so as to allow the bill to be introduced.

Mr. Eliot's bill was then put upon its passage, and was passed by a vote of 111 to 29.

A resolution was adopted calling for information as to the arrest and escape of John H. Surratt.

A bill was introduced and referred, directing the sale of $2,000,000 of gold by the Secretary of the Treasury, every Monday; also, a bill for the meeting of Congress on the 4th of March.

2 p. m.—The President's message has just been received. Mr. Stevens moved to postpone the reading until tomorrow. The motion was rejected, and the clerk proceeded to read the message.

Mr. Stevens introduced a bill to regulate removals from office, which was made the special order for Friday next.

Mr. Schenck, Ohio, introduced a bill to equalize the bounties of soldiers, sailors and marines. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Arrest of John Surratt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—This Government had information as long ago as last winter, that John H. Surratt had gone to Europe. The person who communicated the facts conversed with him during the voyage across the Atlantic, and also reported that Surratt, believing he was far removed from danger, was free and out-spoken about his connection with the assassination conspiracy. To-night Secretary Seward received a dispatch by the Atlantic cable, dated to-day, as follows:

"I have arrested John H. Surratt, one of President Lincoln's assassins. No doubt of identity. HALE,
"United States Consul-General,
"Alexandria, Egypt."

GOVERNOR GEARY will be inaugurated on the 15th of January; the election for United States Senator will take place on the same day; and the election of Treasurer will take place on the 19th day of January.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' CASE.—The regular term of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond should have begun on Monday, but it announced that neither Chief Justice Chase nor Judge Underwood were in Richmond on that day, and, consequently, no Court was held. The case of Mr. Davis, which should have come up at this term of the Court, is therefore postponed until the next term, which is held in May, 1867. None of the counsel for the prisoner were in Richmond on Monday.

MARRIED.

SHOEMAKER—RESSOR—In Morristown, Henry county, Ills., on the 11th ult., by Rev. A. M. Tanner, Mr. Charles T. Shoemaker, of Bedford, Pa. and Miss Anna M. Ressor, of Morristown, Ills.

BENNER—DEACON—On the 29th ult., at the residence of the bride's parents, by Rev. A. R. Miller, Mr. John Benner and Miss Casander Deacon, both of Pleasant Valley.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.—TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hidebound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. These Powders were formerly put up by Simpson I. Tobias, son of Dr. Tobias, and since his death, the demand has been so great for them, that Dr. Tobias has continued to manufacture them. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them, and you will never be without them. Hiram Woodruff, the celebrated trainer of trotting horses, has used them for years, and recommends them to his friends. Col. Philo P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over 20 running horses in his charge, and for the last three years he has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the depot. Sold by Druggists and Saddlers. Price 25 cents per box. Depot, 56 Cortlandt Street, New York.

JAMES LULL, M. D.

Miscellaneous.

REASONS WHY THE AMERICAN WATCH, MADE AT WALTHAM, MASS., IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle. It is composed of SOLID PLATES. No jar can interfere with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can damage its machinery. Every piece is made and finished by machinery, (itself famous for its novelty, as well as for its effectiveness,) and is therefore properly made. The watch is what all mechanism should be—ACCURATE, SIMPLE, STRONG AND ECONOMICAL. Except some high grades, too costly for general use, foreign watches are chiefly made by women and boys. Such watches are composed of several hundred pieces, screwed and riveted together, and require constant repairs to keep them in any kind of order. All persons who have carried "anceres," "lepines," and "English Patent Levers," are perfectly well aware of the truth of this statement.

At the beginning of our enterprise, more than ten years ago, it was our first object to make a thoroughly good low-priced watch for the million, to take the place of these foreign impositions, the refuse of foreign factories, which were entirely unsaleable at home and perfectly worthless everywhere.

How well we have accomplished this may be understood from the fact that after so many years of public trial we now make MORE THAN HALF OF ALL THE WATCHES SOLD IN THE UNITED STATES, and that no others have ever given such universal satisfaction. While this department of our business is continued with increased facilities for perfect work, we are at present engaged in the manufacture of watches of the very HIGHEST GRADE KNOWN TO CHRONOMETRY, unequaled by anything hitherto made by ourselves, and unsurpassed by anything made in the world. For this purpose we have the amplest facilities. We have erected an addition to our main building expressly for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate delicacy and exactness. The choicest and most approved materials only are used, and we challenge comparison between this grade of our work and the finest imported chronometers. We do not pretend to sell our watches for LESS MONEY than foreign watches but we do assert, without fear of contradiction, that for the SAME MONEY our product is incomparably superior. All our watches, of whatever grade, are fully warranted, and this warrantee is good at all times against us or our agents in all parts of the world.

CAUTION.—The public are cautioned to buy only of respectable dealers. All persons selling counterfeits will be prosecuted.

SNOW POWDER.—Patented May 29, 1866. This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT rot the clothes, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used. Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.

The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied.

Manufactured by HOWE & STEVENS,
260 Broadway, Boston,

Also, manufacturers of Family Dye Colors.

PAY THE PRINTER!

We have just sent a number of bills to persons indebted to us for job work and advertising. This kind of work is always intended to be cash, but we have waited for months on some of it and for years on others. We must have these bills paid. Had we no debts of our own, we might give a hundred years' grace to those who owe us. But we must pay our debts, and, hence, we are compelled to collect from those who are indebted to us. The books of B. F. Meyers are also unsettled and must be closed up. We are driven to sending bills to all, irrespective of persons, and we hope that we will not be compelled to resort to any thing more stringent. But we must have our books squared up, and a word to the wise is sufficient.

METEORS.—This seems to be an inexhaustible subject. Even the poets have waked up to its importance, as witness the following effusion poured out for our columns:

November winds were blowing cold.
When, in a country town, 'twas told
If people would stay up all night
They would be sure to see a light—
Meteors!

That such a light ne'er fell on man,
Before or since the world began;
The shooting stars of 'Thirty-three
Would sink into oblivion's sea.
Meteors!

Then no one knew that they would come,
And so the sight was missed by some;
But all in 'Sixty-six should see
What sort of things these stars might be.
Meteors!

For men are so much wiser now—
They know the where, the when, and how,
And all that people had to do,
Was keep awake and calmly view
Meteors!

From Mudtown up to Gravel Hill,
Awake they kept, and hourly still
Did folks explore the quiet sky,
Eager to give the signal cry—
Meteors!

But vainly sought for some commotion
Among the isles of that blue ocean;
For "radiant points" about the Lion,
Or from the girdle of Orion.
Meteors!

To hurry matters up in town—
Perhaps to hurry meteors down—
The village bells were loudly rung,
Then every blind was open flung!
Meteors!

From east to west, from north to south,
With straining eye and open mouth,
The people turned themselves about,
As from the steeples rose the shout—
Meteors!

The stars, instead of falling down,
Sat winking at the folks in town,
Thinking, from all that they had seen,
That some of them were rather green.
Meteors!

When still above they kept their places,
The people turned with angry faces,
And finding it was pretty cold,
They slamm'd their doors, exclaiming—Sold!
Meteors!

In sleep the morning hours were spent,
And when the sun, as usual, sent
Above the hills his rosy beams,
The people muttered in their dreams,
Meteors!

NOT APPRECIATED.—It is a very common thing for some persons to grumble at the price they pay for their local paper and their advertising—invariably ending with the remark, "that is given in charity, for they never receive any benefit therefrom." An exchange commenting upon the subject, truthfully remarks:

"Newspapers, by enhancing the value of property in their neighborhood and giving the localities in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all such grumblers, particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, tarice the amount yearly of the meagre sum they pay for their support. Besides, every public spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper of which he is not ashamed. A good-looking, thriving sheet helps to sell property, gives character to the locality, and in all respects is desirable as a public conveniences. If from any cause the matter in the editorial or local columns should not be quite up to your standard, do not cast it aside and pronounce it of no account until you are satisfied that there has not been more labor bestowed upon it than is paid for. And it must not be supported in a spirit of charity either, but because you feel it a necessity to support. The local press is the 'power that moves the people.'"

STATE APPROPRIATIONS TO STUDENTS AND GRADUATES.—By a recent Act of the Legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal Students and Graduates:

1st. Each student over seventeen years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the common Schools of the State, shall receive the sum of fifty cents per week towards defraying the expenses of tuition and boarding.

2d. Students over seventeen years of age who were disabled in the military service of the United States, or of Pennsylvania, or whose father lost his life in said service, who shall sign an agreement as above, shall receive the sum of one dollar per week.

3d. Each student who upon graduating should sign an agreement to teach the Common Schools of the State two full years, shall receive the sum of fifty dollars.

4th. Any student to secure these benefits must attend the school at least one term of twelve consecutive weeks. These benefits are to be deducted from the regular expenses of board and tuition.

HAPPY HOMES.—The great end of prudence is to give cheerfulness to those hours which splendor cannot gild and acclamation cannot exhilarate; those soft intervals of unbended amusement in which a man shrinks to his natural dimensions, and throws aside the ornaments and disguises which he feels in privacy to be useless incumbrances, and to lose all effect when they become familiar. To be happy at home is the ultimate result of all ambition, and to which every enterprise and labor tends, and of which every desire prompts the execution. It is, indeed, at home that every man must be known by those who would have a just estimate of his virtue or felicity.

A HINT TO LADIES.—An eastern cotemporary, who has evidently been shoved into the mud, and also been in danger of having his eye put out by the tip of an umbrella arm, takes revenge in the following language:—"Ladies, when two of you are walking side by side, taking up every inch of the cross-walk, and the day is rainy and the mud deep, don't think of such a thing as for one of you to step behind the other, so as to allow one of the "lords of creation" (what a misnomer) to pass by you dry shod, but always do as you did—crowd him off into the mud, and keep your umbrellas bolt upright, too; it's no difference to you if he has to hold his at arm's length away from him to avoid a collison with yours; and then it looks so lady-like and becoming for you to assert your superiority upon every such occasion."

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—We learn, says the Greensburg Argus, that well-dressed, smooth-tongued scamps are traveling over the country, having with them a model hay and manure loader with which they are gulling farmers outrageously. Their mode of operation is to visit the principal farmers, exhibit their model, sell a right to use it, and give an order on a manufacturing establishment, where they pretend to have a contract for the manufacture of the implement, receiving in exchange the farmer's note, which they immediately convert into money, at a discount and then clear out. It is probable that some of the patent-right venders will visit this county, and farmers should exercise due vigilance to detect them.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH AND LOTS.—The foundation walls of the Episcopal Church here have just been put up, and preparations will be made during the winter for putting up the superstruc-in the spring. The remains of the dead formerly buried in the old church lots, on Penn street, have been removed to the cemetery, and a monument is intended to be placed over them. The lots are now in the market for sale, and can be purchased for a moderate price. The will has been made secure by a recent act of the Legislature.

A MISSING MAN FOUND.—The Greensburg Argus says the skeleton of a man named John Orhm, was found in a coal mine in Sewickley township, Westmoreland county, a short time since. He suddenly disappeared some two years since, and his friends never heard anything of him until the finding of the skeleton, which was identified by discovering a handkerchief on which his name was written, and also by parts of his clothing. The mystery as to the manner of his death has not been solved.

CONDUCTORS IN LIMBO.—Nearly all the conductors on the Pennsylvania Railroad have been arrested for embezzlement of funds belonging to the company. We always regarded this class of people as the most scrupulously honest persons in existence. How could a man be dishonest who will not let a penniless individual ride a mile at the Company's expense, and who refuses to take any money but specie and greenbacks for fares?

CONVERSION OF SEVEN-THIRTIES.—Parties desiring to convert seven-thirties into five-twenty coupon bonds, are reminded that all conversions on and after December 1, will be made in five-twenties, bearing interest from January 1, next, and on transmitting or adjusting their seven-thirties, they will make up the interest account to that date.

BANK NOTE PAPER TAXABLE.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in answer to an interrogatory from Assessor Martin of this District, as to whether bank note paper is exempt from taxation, answers: "Bank note paper, not being regarded by this office as printing paper, within the meaning of the law, is held liable to a tax of three per centum ad valorem."

THANKSGIVING.—Last Thursday, 29th ult., appointed by the President as a day of Thanksgiving, was duly observed by our people. The stores and places of business were closed. Rev. H. Heckerman preached in the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. A. J. Barrow in the Court House. The day was disagreeable, rain falling from early morn till night.

A MAN, stopping his paper, wrote to the editor: "I think folks ottend to spend their munny for papers; my dad didn't, and every body says he was the intelligyntist man in the country, and had the smartest family of boys that ever dugged taters."

NEW P. M. AT HUNTINGDON.—We learn from the Huntingdon papers that G. Ashman Miller, Esq., has been appointed Postmaster at that place, vice John Reed removed. We know Mr. Miller well and can heartily endorse the appointment.

NEW LODGE OF I. O. OF O. F.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, of this State, at its late session in Philadelphia, granted a charter for a Lodge at Saxton, this county.

COMMON SCHOOLS.—The common schools of our borough opened on Monday last, with Rev. H. Heckerman as Principal, and Misses O'Conor, Holderbaum, Tomlinson and Russell, as assistants.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

A NEW BOOK BY MRS. EMMA D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.—T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, have in press and will publish on Saturday, December 15th, a new book by Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth, entitled "The Bride of Llewellyn," which will, beyond all doubt prove to be the most popular and successful work that has ever been written by her, for she is beyond all question the most powerful female writer in America, if not in the world. No one ever read a chapter of one of her works, without wishing to read the whole book, and none ever read one of her books without admiring the rare genius of its author, and wishing that she might soon write another. Her scenes are life-pictures, her incidents are founded on facts, and her sentiments are characterized by a single purity both of conception and expression. She has the rare faculty of saying what she means, and of saying it in such a manner that her meaning cannot be misinterpreted. In short she possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which are the peculiar prerogatives of a good writer; and while she delights the reader's imagination with her descriptive beauty, she applies home truths to his understanding with the force of rational conviction. The "Bride of Llewellyn" will be welcomed by all such readers especially; and those who have never read the works of this gifted woman should not fail to buy and read this new novel by this gifted American authoress.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The December number of "Godey" is on our table. It is one of the best Holiday numbers of this magazine we have ever seen. The "Christmas Doll" and "Christmas," are fine steel, engravings and are alone worth the subscription price. The fashion-plates are excellent, as usual. The tales, poetry and literary contents generally, are at par. "Godey" is the oldest magazine of fashion in this country. The magazine offers great attractions for 1867. Our advice to our lady readers is to subscribe for Godey's Lady's Book.

THE LADIES' REPOSITORY.—We recommend to those of our readers who desire some intermixture of Western Literature with that of the Middle States and the Yankee notions of Boston, the Ladies' Repository, a monthly magazine published by Poe and Hitchcock, Cincinnati, O. It is an old established magazine and maintains its well-earned fame as a readable and interesting work. Let those who wish to read a Western monthly, subscribe to the Ladies' Repository. Price $3.00 per annum.

CLARK'S SCHOOL VISITOR.—We are in regular receipt of this neat and interesting little periodical. It is the best juvenile monthly published. The "Visitor" is to be enlarged on the first of January. Price 75 cents per annum. Address J. W. Daughaday, Philadelphia.

WE call attention to the advertisement, in another column, of Ann S. Stephens' new book, "The Soldier's Orphans," just published by Peterson & Bros., Philadelphia.

PUBLISHED THIS DAY—ANN S. STEPHENS' NEW BOOK!
THE SOLDIER'S ORPHANS. By Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, author of "Fashion & Famine," "The Gold Brick," "The Old Homestead," "Silent Struggles," "Mary Derwent," "Rejected Wife," "The Heiress," "The Wife's Secret," etc.
This new book, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, has been pronounced by all to be by far the best and most interesting work ever written by her. It appeared in monthly instalments in "Peterson's Magazine" during the last year, having been completed in the December number, where it proved to be the most popular, powerful, and successful novel that has ever appeared in that Magazine, and it is now published complete and unabridged, in one large duodecimo volume, uniform with the "Gold Brick," "Fashion and Famine," and other works of Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, published by us. It will no doubt prove to be the most popular work that has ever before been written by this talented American authoress.
"Mrs. Stephens has justly become a favorite with all American readers of prose fiction, and the announcement of a new work from her graceful pen is cheerful news to thousands of readers. And there is a rare treat in store for them, for in "The Soldier's Orphans," Mrs. Stephens has, if anything, eclipsed all her former efforts. There is less redundancy of scene and action, but there is far more artistic excellence, and an elaboration of causes and effects, attainable only by practised writers. The action of this new novel transpires in Philadelphia, and beyond the limits of the city, the authoress does not permit herself to stray. The time selected by Mrs. Stephens is recent, the late war, and she pictures with vivid distinctness the domestic suffering and sacrifices entailed by, and made for, the grand and heroic struggle for national unity. The plot is one of absorbing interest, the characters are graphic transcripts from real life, strongly individualized, and the contrasts formed by their individual peculiarities, mental and physical, lend a rare charm to this last and most finished of Mrs. Stephens' books."
"The Soldier's Orphans" is published complete in one large duodecimo volume. Price $1.50 in paper; or $2.00 in cloth.

MISHLER'S BITTERS
WILL CURE ALL DISEASES OF THE SKIN!

Diseases of the skin are numerous and, with but one or two exceptions, may all be traced to impurity of the blood. In many persons this impurity is born in the system; while others acquire it through improper treatment of scores of diseases. Under this head may be classed—

1st, Scrofula.—This disease is hereditary and is transmitted from generation to generation It is caused by a transgression of the laws of nature, both moral and physical; in other words, it is caused by vice. Acting as a latent poison, it reduces the vitality of the blood, and weakens the depurating organs, so that they fail to discharge or cast out the impurities that are continually generating in the system. A person physically pure acquires gonorhœa, or some other secret disease; he undergoes a course of mercury, the disease is dried up, and the patient pronounced well. Vain delusion. The complaint is not cured, its channel is only diverted. Instead of making its appearance outwardly, it acts on the internal organs, and scrofula, which is bequeathed from father to son, is the result. Many persons who are perfectly free from all immorality and vice are afflicted with scrofula They are suffering for the sins of their fathers and laboring under the curse inscribed inscribed in the Book of Books. "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

To cure this dreadful complaint it is necessary that the blood should be thoroughly purified, all the organs of the body brought into a healthy state of action, and the system braced up and strengthened by invigorating tonics. Look at the articles used in compounding Mishler's Bitters; see the array of purifying and invigorating medicaments, and say whether there is an article in the whole list of medicines that equals it. We here emphatically assert, without fear of contradiction, that

It purifies the blood, it strengthens the internal organs and aids them to perform their natural functions, it is a stimulant and a tonic and it will cure Scrofula.

2d, Running Sores and Ulcers.—Running sores and ulcers invariably indicate a scrofulous taint. They are caused by the efforts of nature to discharge the impurities of the blood. Many persons afflicted with running sores and ulcers succeeded in drying them up and think they are cured when the skin grows over the sore. They are, however, "but making bad worse," for the impurities that were discharged from the system through the medium of the sore now act internally and cause innumerable diseases and often death. The only true and sure cure for all running sores and ulcers is Mishler's Bitters, a continued and persevering use of which will most certainly effect a permanent cure.

3d. Salt Rheum.—Salt Rheum is a vague, indefinite, though, popular term given to almost all the non-febrile eruptions of the skin which afflict adults. It is generally an eruption of vesicles in small, distinct ulcers, accompanied with a smarting, tingling sensation, with a tendency to creep or spread over the adjoining surface. Mishler's bitters are a sure cure for this disease.

4th. Pimples and Blotches.—Pimples and Blotches on the skin are always a sure sign of impure blood. Although never dangerous, except in cases of carbuncles, they are very disagreeable.—Often we will see the most handsome features rendered hideous by great blotches and pimples, and instead of the pleasing look which should irradiate the human face we see nothing but disgusting corruption; for pimples and blotches are nothing but the corrupt accumulations of the system expelled through the medium of the skin. The use of Mishler's Bitters will force these corruptions to be discharged through the natural channels, and thus cures all kinds of pimples and blotches. Ladies who desire a fair complection, free from pimples should bear this fact in mind.

J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING)
SKIRT.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for

J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.

For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

THE OLD GUARD,
A MONTHLY MAGAZINE,
DEVOTED TO
Literature, Science and Art, and the Political Principles of 1776 and 1787.

C. CHAUNCEY BURR, EDITOR.

The success of THE OLD GUARD has been as remarkable as it ought to be gratifying to the friends of a true American literature. It has steadily doubled its circulation each year of its publication, and its publishers have found it necessary to annually enlarge it, to meet the full expectations of its patrons, as well as to realize their own ideal of a first-class Family and Literary Magazine, combined with sound political principles.—To still farther carry out this design, The Old Guard for 1867 will be printed on new type, and enlarged sixteen additional pages, making in all nearly One Thousand Pages of reading matter yearly for the low price of three dollars! Arrangements have also been made to secure the very best literary talent of the country. We will commence in the January number a thrilling Romance, written expressly for The Old Guard, entitled, the peer of Cooper and Irving, taking the reader back to the birth of the American principle of government, and introducing him to the rebels of 1776. John Esten Cooke, Esq., of Virginia, author of "Surry of Eagle's Nest," &c., &c., will furnish a series of graphic sketches, entitled "The Battles of Virginia," while our present corps of contributors, with some new ones, will continue to furnish articles, making the Magazine second to none in point of literary attraction and ability.—Politically, The Old Guard will stand in the future as in the past, faithfully guarding the Constitution as it came from the hands of Washington, without acquiescing in any of the subversions, under the title of "amendments." It will be continued upon the grand idea that "all is not lost," while virtue and intelligence remain with any portion of the people.

JOSCELYN; A Tale of the Revolution;

By Wm. Gilmore Simms, Esq., of S. C.,

ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1866, Messrs. TICKNOR & FIELDS began the publication of a weekly journal entitled

EVERY SATURDAY:
A JOURNAL OF CHOICE READING,
SELECTED FROM FOREIGN CURRENT LITERATURE.

Much of the best literature of the day is found in the English and Continental magazines and periodicals; and it is the design of the Publishers of this new journal to reproduce the choicest selections from these for American readers, in a form at once attractive and inexpensive. The publishers believe that such a journal, conducted upon the plan which they propose, will be not only entertaining and instructive in itself, but interesting and valuable as a reflex of foreign periodical literature of the better class.

EVERY SATURDAY is intended for town and country, for the fireside, the seaside, the railway and the steamboat. Its plan embraces Incidents of Travel and Adventure, Essays Critical and Descriptive, Serial Tales, Short Stories, Poems, Biographies, Literary Intelligence, etc., in connection with judicious selections from the admirable popular papers on science which are constantly appearing in foreign periodicals. The value of these papers arises from the fact that scientific subjects, however harsh and dry in themselves, are here treated in so graphic and picturesque a style as to charm the reader while instructing him.

It will be, in short, the aim of its publishers that EVERY SATURDAY shall commend itself by its freshness and variety to all classes of intelligent and cultivated readers.

EVERY SATURDAY will contain each week thirty-two large octavo pages, handsomely printed in double columns, with an engraved title.

THE NEW YORK NEWS,
The only Recognized Democratic Newspaper published in New York,
DAILY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND WEEKLY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE NEW YORK NEWS has battled against despotism for four years of blood and terror in assertion of the sanctity of the Constitution. A patriotism sufficiently broad to embrace both sections has been its only guide, and it refers now with honest pride to its record to show that it has not turned to the right or the left under all the violence of arbitrary power.

True to its principles as THE NEWS has been through the reign of terror, it challenges public confidence in its honesty and independence for the future.

The political transition of the present day opens to THE NEWS a new and wider field of usefulness. Standing now as it always has, on the inviolability of the Constitution, according to the interpretation of the strict constructionists, it presents a rallying ground for all, in both sections, who are friends of a generous conservatism. As a true and tried exponent of sectional amity it occupies a position which makes it the fitting mediator in holding up to the party of order in both sections, interests and principles that gave breadth and vitality to their alliance. As an intersectional agent, devoted to freedom of election, to trial by jury, to the sanctity of the habeas corpus, and opposed now, as for four years of terror it has been, to the centralization that dares to trample on the rights of States, North or South, THE NEWS places itself as a candidate for support before the great body of this once free people.

The circumstances of the moment make the dissemination of the principles of THE NEWS a duty of individual patriotism. Every man who concurs in its doctrines must if he entertain a true sense of freedom, do so in no spirit of indifference, but rather with the earnestness of a high trust. Justified, nay bound in his love of liberty to do so, the proprietor places the canvass he makes here of the public generally in the hands of those men who give him the approval of their consciences as his individual agents. Every reader of the THE NEWS cannot avoid the conviction of duty which is here pointed out as the ground of the request, that he urges his claims for a wider support upon all of his friends and neighbors who give their earnest sympathies to the cause of "strict construction," intersectional conciliation, and all the rights of the citizen under the system set up by our fathers of liberty regulated by law. The proprietor of THE NEWS calls, therefore, upon true and good conservatives throughout the country to discharge, to their convictions of political right at this great crisi in the country's fortunes, the duty of giving to the influence of his paper, daily, semi-weekly, or weekly, the wider power for good which it seeks here through the service of its individual supporters.

[From the Philad'a Evening Bulletin, Mar., 10.]

We are gratified to hear of the continued success, in New York, of our townsman, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist. His store, next to the Metropolitan Hotel, is 28 feet front, 230 feet deep, and five stories in height. It is certainly a grand establishment, and speaks favorably of the merit of his articles. He retains his Office and Laboratory in this city, which are also model establishments of their class.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are

SHRINERS BALSAMIC COUGH SYRUP.
For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting Blood, Pain and Weakness of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, &c.

This is no new remedy. It has been used for a number of years in Maryland and parts of Pennsylvania, and has, wherever known, acquired an unprecedented reputation for curing the various diseases for which it is recommended.

So apparent is its usefulness, and so remarkable has been its cures, that it is fast superceding every other remedy for those diseases. The afflicted can rely upon its doing as much for them, and in many cases more than any other remedy now be ore the public.

It is recommended and prescribed in the practice of a large number of the most intelligent and able physicians of Maryland. It is used and considered an indispensable household remedy by a large portion of the first families of the State.

It is used by all classes of society, and the universal opinion is that it is good. This Syrup is Purely Vegetable Compound. It is pleasant to take, and never does injury. But owing to its purifying qualities, must do good under any circumstances. Its effects are truly wonderful, soothing, calming, and allaying the most violent coughs, purifying, strengthening and invigorating the whole system, calming and soothing the nerves; aiding and facilitating expectoration, and healing the CROUP.

This disease is announced by difficulty of breathing, shrill whistling or wheezing, hacking cough and threatened suffocation, &c. It mostly occurs in young children. No child need die of croup if this Syrup is properly used and used in time.—Mothers having croupy children should watch the first show of the disease, and always keep this remedy at hand.
